Why get involved?

Exposure and Brand Awareness

Promote your company and expertise to 150+ R&D professionals, formulators, and decision makers from leading brands who are attending to gain in-depth information about formulation innovations and find the best solutions for their products. Ensure your brand and product information are at the forefront of each delegate's mind.

Lead Generation

Discuss the requirements of and network with potential customers face-to-face over two days and receive their full details (title, name, job title, company name, address, email, telephone number) after the event.

Thought Leadership

Tell your story! Show that you are a leader in the field and demonstrate your valuable work and expertise to a highly targeted audience.

Gain a competitive advantage

Showcase your expertise to senior decision makers and potential buyers who are keen to learn from you.
